

ATARI PROGRAM EXCHANGE ORDER INFORMATION

The Atari Program Exchange (APX) increases the amount of software available for ATARI Home Computers by publishing user-written programs and making them available for sale by Atari retailers. The APX library contains over one hundred programs covering a wide range of subjects including entertainment, business and professional applications, personal finance and record keeping, personal interest and development, education, and software development.

APX programs come in bright colorful consumer-oriented packaging and are popularly priced at retail from $15.95 to $49.95. Displaying APX products on your shelves dramatically emphasizes the large amount of software available for ATARI Home Computers and convinces potential buyers that ATARI Home Computers are helpful in many activities.

A full list of programs and descriptions can be found in the APX quarterly catalog. Atari makes a selection of popular APX programs available to Atari Home Computer retailers through your Atari sales representatives.
